

The Mosedale Collection

John Chapman & Company design and manufacture finest quality fishing, shooting, travel and shoulder bags in best British raw materials. Situated in northern Cumbria, one of the most beautiful corners of England, the Company has won many awards for the quality of its products. Of classic styling and extremely rugged construction, each bag is meticulously built to give many years of first class service.

Based on the same high quality materials, as used in the classic Cumberland Collection. However, slightly fewer fittings are incorporated and the bags are constructed with less pockets.

All bags include the following:

1. Double layered cotton canvas bonded together with natural rubber, the traditional way. This makes the material waterproof.
2. Fine leather straps are used.
3. 100% cotton webbing shoulder straps are incorporated, which are adjustable.
4. Solid brass fittings.
5. Every seam is stitched at least twice with heavy duty abrasion resistant threads.

Exceptional value for money and built to last.
